

NEW HGFA Website has Landed!

We are very excited to announce the launch of the new HGFA website! After many months of hard work, we are proud to be able to launch this stunning new website to the community on 1 September 2017.

The new HGFA website brings new opportunities to our gliding community. By showcasing the freedom and fun found in our sport and highlighting our high safety standards, we hope this website will encourage more people to join our wonderful sport.

This new website will also bring about many great benefits and online tools for current members of our sport. Some key functionalities that will be available on the new website include:

- Pilot tools
- Safety information
- Find a Club
- Events Calendar

There may be some minor teething issues, as is the case with new website launches, so please let us know of any bugs you come across by emailing marketing@hgfa.asn.au and we'll get them fixed promptly. We will be continuing to make minor modifications over the next 7 days.

You may need to refresh your computer's browser if you are unable to see the new website.

As with any good website, we are committed to continuing to evolve the website to provide more value to you – our members.

NEW HGFA Members Phone App

Along with the new website we are also proud to launch a new HGFA App which will help you keep track of your membership no matter where you are and at the touch of a button!

Learn more about the HGFA App here

The HGFA app works on all HTML 5 mobile phones, tablets, laptops and desktops meaning you can access it everywhere. It also has several great features including the ability to view, edit and renew memberships, add flight logs, upload HGFA documents and much more!
